May 1, 2018: The Lexington One Educational Foundation will participate in Midlands Gives this year, which will be held on Tuesday, May 1, 2018.

Hosted by Central Carolina Community Foundation, this 24-hour online giving event brings the South Carolina Midlands together as one community to raise money and awareness for local nonprofits in 11 Midlands counties. CCCF is dedicated to bring awareness to the nonprofit organizations that make our community a vibrant place to live, work and play. Nonprofit organizations play a tremendous role in all of our lives and CCCF is dedicated to supporting the work that they do and Midlands Gives is a terrific way to showcase this commitment.

When an individual donates through Midlands Gives, the nonprofit will receive all of the proceeds minus the transaction fee, which averages to be 4.9% per gift. The minimum donation amount is $20 and there is no maximum. CCCF accepts Mastercard, Visa, Discover and American Express for credit card gifts and donations via e-checks if the donor provides a bank routing number.

Midlands Gives donations will begin counting towards the local effort on May 1, 2018, at 12:00 am and last through 11:59 pm, Eastern Time.

Once a donor makes a gift to a local nonprofit via Midlands Gives, Central Carolina Community Foundation will acknowledge and receipt the donation. At the end of the campaign, each participating nonprofit will be notified of donations and donors who made gifts to their cause.
